

Jewelry: Worn to Adorn

An integral form of personal expression in ancient and modern times

Beauty
THROUGH THE Ages

A Fun and Informative Luncheon | Lecture Series

PRESENTED BY THE WOMEN'S COMMITTEE TO BENEFIT PENN MUSEUM

THE WOMEN'S COMMITTEE OF PENN MUSEUM

Invites you to the first in a luncheon series
exploring the topic of 'Beauty Through the Ages'

Jewelry: Worn to Adorn

Wednesday, November 2, 2011

10:30 am

Penn Museum ~ 3260 South Street, Philadelphia

Lunch, Jewelry Shopping and Jewelry Appraisals, Raffle Auction
and a presentation by Jane Hickman, PhD

Jane Hickman will discuss adornment with jewelry~ ancient and modern times

phone: (215) 898-9202 | e-mail: wc@museum.upenn.edu

www.wcpennmuseum.com

Cover, center: Queen Puabi's Headdress, beaded cape and jewelry (includes comb, hair rings, wreaths, hair ribbons, and earrings) of gold, lapis lazuli, and carnelian, from the Royal Cemetery of Ur, ca 2550 BCE.

Photo Credit: Penn Museum.